Four brothers from the Gundry family between them married two James sisters (Mary and Elizabeth), and the daughters (both also called Mary) of a further two. The daughters' fathers were 1st cousins and both called Henry Trevenen. One of them had a sister (Anne) who married a cousin (Francis) of the four James sisters. Another of his sisters (yet another Mary!) married his aunt Mary's (!) son Samuel Jenkin, whose brother John was married the aunt of the four James sisters! Most remarkably, only one of these couples was actually related by blood: 1st cousins Samuel Jenkin and Mary Trevenen.
